

Agnes Ann Smith

June 30, 1951 - December 26, 2021

Agnes Ann Wyatt Smith, age 70, of Taylors, South Carolina, went to be with the Lord on Sunday, December 26, 2021. She passed peacefully due to complications from breast cancer at her home surrounded by her loving children and grandchildren.

Agnes was born in Detroit, Michigan, on June 30, 1951, to Clifford Wyatt and Bertha Sikes Wyatt. Agnes was a beloved and devoted caregiver, having served as a Registered Nurse and Nurse Administrator for 50 years in Michigan, Florida and Virginia. She attended Macomb Community College, the University of South Florida and the University of Tampa, having attained a Master's Degree in Nursing as her highest academic achievement. In 2020, Agnes retired from her lifelong love of nursing to South Carolina to be near family. Agnes loved gardening, traveling, assembling jigsaw puzzles and spending time with her grandchildren.

Some of her favorite times were spent on the family farm in Tennessee. Her selflessness, steadiness, encouragement and passion for helping others will be missed beyond measure. Agnes was preceded in death by her adoring husband of 40 years, Donald Smith, grandson Camden Smith and mother Bertha "Juanita" Wyatt. She is survived by her four children, DJ (Kiska) Smith of Bothell, WA, Greg (Amy) Smith of Lutz, FL, Matt (Danielle) Smith of Winter Garden, FL, and Melissa (Josh) Sweeting of Travelers Rest, SC.

She leaves behind her nine beautiful grandchildren: Carson Smith, Hayden Smith, Allison Smith, Kian Smith, Hadley Smith, Brody Smith, Owen Sweeting, Evan Smith and Peyton Sweeting. She is cherished by her father, Clifford Wyatt, her brother, Cliff (Maureen) Wyatt, and four sisters, Barbara (Dale) Petrowske, Donna (John) Hyder, Marsha (Dallas) Green and Helen (Ernie) McIntosh, along with many nieces and nephews. We rejoice in her life and cherish the lifetime of memories she has given us all.

In honor of Agnes' wishes, a memorial service will be held privately in Pikeville, Tennessee.

“ During my high school years, I spent more time under Agnes’ care in the Smith Family Home, than under my own roof. During that time, Agnes always created a hospitable and caring environment where we ALL felt like her own family. This was the case even when I strained my welcome (like the time I was cheerily greeted as I woke up from a soaking stupor at the Smith Home, to the sound of Christmas music 😊). To this day, Agnes and her clan have inspired me to (try to) re-create a similar environment in my own home with my own kids (and their friends). For those wonderful times and the countless memories along the way, I thank and miss you, Agnes.

The Zilka Family extends our deepest and most heartfelt condolences to Greg, DJ, and the entire Smith Family during this very difficult time.

With Love,
Kevin & Stefanie

“ I have many memories of Agnes, but the one that stands out was when I broke her window. I was sitting in the recliner in the living room and decided to recline, but went right through the window. Instead of being upset, she told me it was a dumb place to put the recliner in the first place. She was kind, gracious, and loved every kid that walked through her doors. I’m truly grateful she was part of my life.

Agnes was the most lovely caring lady anyone could ever know. She is the godmother to our oldest daughter. Agnes was so proud of her children always smiling and a heart full of love. She is now with her one and only love Don. RIP dear friend.

“ Agnes was such a strong, confident, loving, and beautiful person. She was a role model to so many. My greatest memories are of sitting in her office at Moffitt Cancer center and her teaching me how to tackle the tough things in life, guiding me through a series of “what’s the worst thing that could happen.” She graciously gave her love not only to her children but her children’s friends :).
