“ When Shela and my brother Robbin first got together we would go down town to watch wrestling Shela and I would yell at the wrestlers especially the ones we didn't like. It would embarrass my brother he would tell us to sit or shut up we just look at each other and laugh and start yelling again. I have alot of good memories of Shela. I told her I was going to take her fishing one more time she would always catch more than me. RIP Shela I love you and already miss you.

Shela married my brother Robbin when I was only 5 years old She has always been family .She had a big heart and was always there for all of her family She had a quirky comical sense of humor and she kept me laughing almost every family get together ,I would be rolling laughing at the comical remark and she would look up at me and just give a grin But the thing I remember most is how animated she would get when my brother would grab her leg at the knee ,it would tickle her out of her seat.She would act mad but then I would get the grin I know she is grinning now in the Glory of the Lord I'll see you soon my sister I love you
